Product Description

Stainless Steel Channel Beam / Bar 316L JIS 65 * 40 * 4.8 mm cold rolled Flat Surface Structural Use White Color

Product Description

Stainless steel beams are designed in a specific way to achieve the shape they have. The way the beams are designed is by welding flat pieces of metal atop the strong supportive center. The center is called the web, because it keeps the two flat pieces, the flange together. This allows both mobility and stability, especially in moving strain.
