Product Description

Carbon Steel Q235B Seamless Pipes Car Making 6.5mm Thickness 6m Length AISI ASME Standard 168mm OD

Product Description

Seamless steel pipe is often used in high pressure equipment because it has better bearing capacity than ordinary steel pipe. Such as hydraulic equipment, pipeline connections, etc. The welding position of ordinary steel pipe is the weak link, and the quality of the weld is the main factor affecting its comprehensive performance. The physical properties of seamless steel pipe are better than that of welded steel pipe, and the compressive performance is higher. Welded pipes are generally around 10mpa. Now welded pipes can be processed seamlessly.
